

The Glory Train
Testimonials

I want to thank you for a very fine program. The people at Canaan are still talking about the glory train. You're right, you don't need a long play to get a message across. Tell Diane I don't think she left me enough business cards. People were asking for them on Sunday because they want to do the play at their church. This program was a fund raiser for our scholarship program. We have 5 seniors this year. Glory Train was a big help, thanks to you & cast members.

Just want to let you know that Canaan is still talking about Glory Train. As a matter of fact they are teasing one another about which woman they are. I told Corean they wanted to see more. That's unusual for black people, because they don't want to go anyplace where they have to pay money or sit a long time. (smile)

Hi Corean,

The ladies at church are still talking about the Glory Train. I refer to the characters often.

From Maxine Boyd: New Haven

Corean, I just wanted to let you know what an exceptional job you guys did Saturday afternoon. We want to thank you again for the laughter and the strong message that came along with it. I have a request from my committee to ask if you have any plays on the horizons and if we could get first crack at it when and if you have anything developing. I know everybody enjoyed it because they are still talking about it. Once again, thanks
Love Ya max
